PLATE GLASS CO. COMPLETES WELL IN THE TIONA SAND

Drill Goes Down 3300 Feet, But Reults Are Not Up to Expectations

ANOTHER HOLE TO BE DRILLED

The gas well which has been drilling on the property of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company for the past several weeks, is completed and the derrick is now being moved to a new location on the grounds with a view of drilling another well.

The well just completed was drilled to what is known as the Tiona sand, two hundred feet below the Speechley, but without results. The drillers failed to find the Speechley at the point expected, and the opinion prevails that it does not exist in that particular location.

The well is not a paying proposition in the way of producing gas, as only a small flow was struck in the Murraysville sand. The well was dry in the Tiona, but in spite of this fact the glass company proposes to give the property another test, and drilling is expected to begin on the new location as soon as the derrick can be placed in position.

At one time there were a number of paying wells on the plate glass company and officials are of the opinion that a paying well may eventually be located. What gas is flowing from the well already completed is being utilized, but the flow is comparatively small.

WOMEN OPPOSING DAYLIGHT SAVING

McKeesport women opposed to daylight saving are so deeply interested in the matter that they are writing letters to Mayor George H. Lysle of McKeesport, imporing him to oppose "community" daylight saving, the Mayor reported on Wednesday.

One woman said: "If Councilman Robert Garland is successful in having the daylight saving ordinance enforced, we women will refuse to send our children to school on any but eastern standard time." She declared that Mayor E. V. Babcock of Pittsburg has taken the right view of the matter and asserts that railroaders and millworkers are almost unanimously opposed to daylight saving.

Another woman wrote that "Mr. Garland may think he is the boss of Pittsburg, but he will quickly find out that he is not." She declared that when the proper time came an injunction against the use of any but eastern standard time will be sought.

SIEZE WHISKEY ON WAY TO UNIONTOWN

State troopers and county detectives confiscated a truck load of whiskey and wine Thursday evening, enroute from Pittsburg to Uniontown, near Connellsville. The driver of the truck is being detained for the prohibition agents. According to the state police and detectives, they were told the liquor was to have been taken to the home of Charles W. Johnston in Uniontown. Investigation by the police and detectives revealed that the Johnston home had been closed for several months.

COUNTY'S GREAT GAIN IN LAST TEN YEARS

The census office has just announced the 1920 population of Pennsylvania counties as compared with 1910, together with the area of each. Washington county's population is 188,992, or 888 more than Fayette county. During the decade this county gained 45,312 while Fayette county gained but 20,655. In area Washington county has 362 square ples, with a density of population of 522 plus to the square mile, while Fayette county, with a total area of 795 square miles has a density of population 236 to the square miles. The increase of population in this county moves it ahead of Fayette, which is now eleventh in rank in the state in that respect.

Greene county's area s 574 square miles, its population is 31,804, a gain of less than 2,000 in ten years.

DONORA TRYING TO REVIVE BRIDGE PROJECT

It is said that one of the undertakings of the new Chamber of Commerce of Donora will be to revive interest in the erection of a proposed river bridge to connect that town with Monessen. The bridge would be located at the south end of West Columbia, and crossing the river reach the other side at thelower end of Monessen. This project has been a desire on the part of Donora residents for many years, and now it is again being agitated, in the hope that something favorable may result.

MILK PRICES TO BE 16 CENTS PER QUART

At least one milk man announced to his patrons this morning, that beginning with April 1st, the price of milk hereafter would be 16 ments per quart. This is a reduction of two cents per quart from the price which has been charged to Charleroi consumers for the past two years. Patrons are grateful for this concession.

Widow in Belgium Seeks Dower Rights in Property

Unusual facts surround a proceeding just filed in equity court at Washington, in which Marue Sadonie Hecq, of the town of Fontain l'Eveque, Province of Hainaut, Belgium, by her attorney, Lucius McK. Crumrine, seeks to secure her dower or rights of dower in a certain property in the Lock View plan, North Charleroi.

The plaintiff avers this property was conveyed by her husband, Emile Hecq, late of Lock No. Four, to Florirne Reukens Collinet. This deal, it is averred, was made without the plaintiff, who claims she is the legal wife of Emile Hecq, joining in the conveyance. She avers she was married to Emile Hecq on April 1, 1893, and that she remained his wife up to the time of his death on May 8, 1917.

She therefore claims she is entitled to share in the funds of her husband's estate and to an assignment by way of dower and conveyance to her by proper deeds and assurance of her share as the widow of Emile Hecq.

She says that Florirne Reukens Collinet has refused and neglected, and still does so to assign, convert and set aart to the plaintiff her interests as she alleges.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS TO MEET

On Tuesday evening, April 5, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Sunday school room of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, a meeting is to be held for the pastors, Sunday school superintendents, departmental superintendents and teachers in the Children's Division, of all the Sunday schools of the Charleroi District. The object of the meeting is to discuss plans for the observance of Children's Week. This is a continent-wide campaign to emphasize the need of religious education of children, as planned by the International Sabbath School Association.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR A FORD MACHINE

Joseph Smaldone, who conducts a barber's supply depot at 101 West Main street, Monongahela, met with an automobile accident Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock that might have had disastrous results.

Smaldone, accompanied by a companion, was driving a Ford car along the street in North Charleroi, near the bridge entrance. In attempting to turn out of the street car tracks he lost control of his car and it headed for the embankment near the steps leading to the railway station. The front wheels of the car went over the brink of the cliff, but the differential caught on the edge of the embankment and held the machine, while Smaldone and his companion jumped from the auto. After the car was taken from its perilous position it was found that the only damage sustained was a broken brake rod.

MILITARY COMPANY MOVE MIGHT SUCCEED

Recent orders from the Adjutant General's office at Harrisburg specifies the organiations which shall constitute the two infantry brogades attached to the Twenty-eighth Division, as well as the artillery, and other units which go to make up National Guard of Pennsylvania under the revised regulations of the War Department. A statement has also been issued which shows that the Pennsylvania Guard at the present time contains something over 7,020 members, a number far below the minimum required by the State. It is possible, therefore, that it will be necessary to organize some new units, in which case a number of towns not now represented, might be able to obtain recognition. In this respect, if the young men of Charleroi who are inclined to military activities would make a move toward securing such an organization here, it is possible that success would follow their efforts. There are many departments outside the infantry that would likely be available.

VETTER MOTOR CAR CO. BRINGS IN NEW CARS

The Vetter Motor Car company drove four Grant Six cars through from Cleveland on Wednesday, averaging on the trip 17 1-2 miles to each gallon a gasoline. This car is said to be a great hill climber, being able to negotiate the State street hill in Belle Vernon on high.

CHARLEROI LODGE OF ELKS HOLD ANNUAL DOLLAR DINNER

Over 200 Members of Lodge Gather About the Festal Board

OCCASION OF GREAT INTEREST

The annual Get-Together, or Dollar Dinner of Charleroi Lodge, No. 494, B. P. O. E., available to members only, was held in the big banquet hall of the Elks' Club, Wednesday evening, March 30. The occasion was one of more than usual interest to the members, and about two hundred and fifty fraters took part in the enjoyment of the evening.

The Dollar Dinner originated some years ago with the Charleroi Lodge and each year the event has grown greater in proportion as well as in interest. This year the increased facilities at the club made it an event of greater magnitude than of former years because of the ability to take of the increased numbers in attendance.

The arrangements for the dinner were looked after by a committee of which J. Ed Masters was chairman, and every detail had the personal attention of some member selected for this particular task.

The dinner was served about 9 o'clock, and the diners were entertained during this enjoyable hour by Jenkins' orchestra, which led in the rendition of many popular song and choruses, all of which were given in a most pleasing manner.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Mr. Masters as master of ceremonies introduced Hon. John K. Tener as the toastmaster of the evening, who directed this part of the program in a manner befitting the occasion. He in turn introduced as speakers of the evening, Eli Barr of Brownsville; Edmund Brown of Toledo, Ohio; R. H. Rush, Tom P. Sloan, Hugh E. Fergus, Arch Osborne, H. L. Swickey, and George Edel of Brownsville, all of whom spoke on some particular phase of Elkdom.

In point of attendance and interest the occasion was possibly one of the most successful ever held by the Charleroi Elks, not only in a fraternal spirit, but in a more material way in which the physical interests of the organization were looked after.

WANTS INDEMNITY BOND FROM AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

Senator McNichol of Philadelphia introduced a bill in the Senate at Harrisburg on Wednesday requiring all automobile owners to file with the State Highway Department a bond for $1,000 for the payment of any judgments obtained against them in any court action for negligent operation of such vehicle. Indemnity insurance of the same amount may be taken out in lieu of the bond.

WAGE CUT MAY STIMULATE TRADE

Wage reductions ranging from eight to 33 1-2 per cent, to become effective April 1, operators have announced, will put prevailing wages of non-union miners in Westmoreland, Fayette and Cambria county districts practically back to the November 1, 1917 scale. The reduction, which will affect about 6,000 men, were decided on following conferences between operators acting individually and committees of miners.

At present mining operations are practically at a standstill, only a few of the larger operations working more than two days a week, while most of the small mines are closed. Reductions in prices which the reduced wages will permit are expected to result in an increased demand for coal, operators said.

Several of the large operators, including the W. J. Rainey company of Fayette county, have already made wages which virtually fix their rates at the November 1, 1917 scale. The total cut to date made by the Rainey company is 32 per cent, including an 18 per cent reduction just made.

Though the wage reductions appear to be severe, one of the operators pointed out that most of the miners of the district have been granted nine increases since 1915, a total of about 200 per cent.

FRUIT CROP NOT SERIOUSLY DAMAGED

According to advices from the department of agriculture the fruit crop surplus of the county as a whole was not materially affected by the cold spell of Monday, in spite of the reports from many sections of heavy frosts. No reports of damages were received from New York or any of the New England states.

WILL REBUILD TIPPLE FOR DUNKIRK MINE

The Union Coal and Coke company will rebuild the tipple at the Dunkirk mine, on Pigeon creek, about two miles out of Monongahela, and which was recently destroyed by fire. The new structure, it is said, will be more modern than the one destroyed.

SANITY IN THE REICHSTAG

Is Germany at last coming to its senses, at last acquiring at least an oscure perception of the unalterable truth that a nation must pay the penalty of wrong doing The question is suggested by the moderate and chastened tone of the speech of the foreign secretary, Dr. Simons, in the Reichstag on March 12, in the course of which he said: "I must say that when one comes face to face with our opponents in Lindon (at the reparations conference) when one hears what the situation is in their countries and under what distress and cares they themselves are laboring, it becomes clear that their demands are not inspired merely by the intoxication of victory or lust for power, but that, on the contrary, they are the result of extraordinarily heavy troubles and distress in their own countries." Troubles, he should have added, which cause Frenchmen and even Englishmen to be far more heavily taxed than Germans are at the present hour in a Germany that has taken no steps to meet its obligations. Dr. Simons went on to say that he could see the true situation in a clearer perspective in London than in Berlin, and to advise against a rupture of relations with the Allies because that would further alienate the world's good will which Germany so greatly needs.

No doubt Dr. Simons has been helped to see the light to this extent by the further advance of the Allies upon German soil. Doubtless he has also been assisted by the fact that there has been no announcement of any change in America's foreign policy. The new Administration has not spoken in support of Germany's policy of repudiation, as seems to have been foolishly expected—an expectation obviously based on the confiding promises of a foreign sympathy group in this country which hoped and too hastily boasted of its ability to influence the new Administration. The sooner Dr. Simons can influence Germany itself the better for all concerned.

ALABAMA-FLORIDA DEAL.

If nature and not men had drawn the boundary lines of some of our States they would be differently shaped. Nature would have brought the entire width of Alabama—for example—down to the water front, but as it is Alabama, a "Gulf State," touches the Gulf of Mexico only with two counties bordering Mobile Bay, while nine other countines properly belonging to her territory are a part of Florida, which State reaches out a long western arm and grabs nearly three fourths of Alabama's coast line notwithstanding the fact that Florida, on both the Atlantic and the Gulf, has coast line to give away—we might almost say "to burn." The Apalachicola river ought to be the boundary line between the two States but the Perdido river is the boundary line, presumably because it became the boundary line between French Louisiana and Spanish Florida in 1702. There appears to be no other way of accounting for the present grotesque arrangement whereby Florida reaches a narrow arm 150 miles into what should be southern Alabama.

The two states are now considering a transfer of the sovereignty over the nine misplaced Florida counties. The legislature of Alabama, which has constitutional power to issue bonds for the purchase of additional territory, passed the enabling act last year, and the Florida legislature will consider the transfer when it meets in April. If Florida agrees and does not demand too high a price, it looks as if a misguided division of territory will be rectified, in which case Alabama will gain largely. The important Gulf port of Pensacola is situated in the region it is proposed to transfer.

A MOTOR-CAR AGE

The automobile figures are amazing. At the end of 1920 every one in ten Americans owned—or owed for—a car, the registered number of gas-driven vehicles being no less than 9,211,295, a million more than were in use a year earlier and seven times as many as were in use in the first year of the World War. It is estimated that these more than nine million automobiles represent an investment of eight billion dollars, that the annual interest thereon would be about a half billion, that depreciation at 20 per cent amounts to more than a billion and a half a year, and that the cost of housing operating and repairs would run up into the billions. Then there is the further costs of the great diversion of labor to automobile building and the vast consumption of iron and oil.

Numberless persons who were unable to afford a carriage or even a plain horse and buggy now insist on having an automobile. The psychiartists may be wrong in holding that there is an automobile "craze" in a pathological sense—a contagious form of madness that is not a new phenomen in the history of medical science. But these automobile figures can hardly fail to suggest either that the talk of hard times is aseless, or that the ubiquitous automobile, with its vast and ceaselesss drain on the purses of the people, is very largely concerned in the creation of hard times. On the other hand, that the almost universal use of automobiles is fixed characteristic of our times, and that hitherto unknown comfort and convenience are thus proided the great body of the public, there can be no question.

A Berlin dispatch from Charles H. Grasty, the well known American correspondent, gives the impression that the Germans will yield to Allied demands if they must, but says that "almost universally in Germany quiet but deep hopes are entertained that the new Administration in Washington will give help, in one form or another." Why should the Germans, with whom we were at war two years and a half ago expect a new government at Washington to take up their cause against our former allies in the same war? Perhaps the German-American Alliance can explain this astonishing situation.

The world in general supposed that the further advance of the Allies on Geran soil was intended to prod Ger-German soilwas intended to prod Ger-German-American associates have formally "resolved" that the real scheme was "to thwart the policies of President Harding and provide a pretett upon which he may be urged to evade his solemn undertaking to disentangle the United States from European affairs"!

WARM SESSION OF MONESSEN COUNCIL

The borough council of Monessen held a very strenuous session Wednesday night, at which time charges and countercharges were made by councilmen against each other and before the evening was over one of the members, W. R. Stephens, had tendered his resignation.

The intensity of the meeting was caused by the police situation, which has been a one of contention in Monessen for many months. From what transpired at the meeting it appears that some time ago a private detective was hired by certain councilmen in the borough to obtain evidence against members of the police force. As it happened the opposition forces got hold of this detective, and as he was said to be quite a boozer and a card sharp, they appeared to take care of his entertainment. When his term of duty was over a bill for over $800 was rendered the borough, and those councilmen who were not in on the deal wanted to know the why and wherefore of this expenditure.

The temperature became so torrid during the evening that council, by a vote of 4 to 3, asked for the resignation of Chief of Police John W. Coover, and then likewise decreased the size of the force from 14 to 10 officers.

The meeting was a special one, but the regular meeting, scheduled for next Wednesday evening, it is said, will hit the real high spots. In the meantime the people of Monessesn are conjecturing as to who thenew Chief will be.

BOOTLEGGERS OBSERVE UNION HOURS, CLAIM

Bootleggers in Connellsville observe union hours and for that reason the six prohibition agents who took that city by storm Tuesday night failed in getting as much evidence as they anticipated. The agents arrived in Connellsville about 5:45 o'clock that evening, spent two hours in collecting evidence and then without doing any talking, made haste to leave for Pittsburg. One local stand did a land office business, it is said. Informations will follow later. Sales terminated at 7 o'clock when word was breezed about that the officers were in town.

TEARING DOWN FRONT OF OLD HOTEL WILBUR

The work of tearing down the front of the old Hotel Wilbur building, which is being transformed into a banking house for the First National Bank, began on Tuesday, and very satisfactory progress is being made. It will require several days to complete this particular work.

New Jersey has followed New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Nevada and Texas in establishing a State constabulary.

Washington is to have at least one more unit of the Tenth Infantry and perhaps two more in a sweeping reorganization of the National Guard of Pennsylvania that is now being made.

This reforming of the malitia of the state, will also result in Company H being changed from a rifle to a machine gun company. For the company there to retain the name which has been so indelibly written into history of the wars of the nation it was necessary to make this transformation.

Washington's new unit will be the headquarters company of the Third Batallion of the regiment. It will have the strength of 41 men, all specialists. These soldiers will be especially trained as runners, signal squads and gas service men in addition to the battalion sergeant major, clerk and mounted orderlies. The signal squads will include the handlers of pigeons used in sending messages.

The third unit that may come to Washington is the regimental Medical Detachment. If all go there the town will be certain to occupy a leading place in the National Guard.

Reorganiation of the National Guard of Pennsylvania is along lines approved by the war department and is the result of closest study of the recent gigantic struggles in which methods of making war, unheard of in previous history, had to be combatted.

COAL TRADE SLOW ON MONONGAHELA RAILWAY

Reports indicate that the coal trade is very quite on the Monongahela Railway, which extends south along the valley from Brownsville. Reports for Monday showed that one hundred and eighteen mines were idle on that day because of the lack of orders. On Monday the total number of cars loaded on the division was 200.

952 Franklin Cars Shipped in February

Sales Keeping Up to High Level at Syracuse Factory.

Business for the month of February as reported by the Franklin Automobile company of Syracuse show that sales are keeping up to a high level. By February 15 the entire month's production had been sold, and to meet the overdemand the factory was called upon for 100 more cars than planned for. Shipments for the month totalled 952 cars, or within 35 cars of the best February in the company's history—this occurring last year. A new record would have been hung up this year but for the fact that February, 1921 had one less day than February, 1920.

Even with the Franklin factory working on a 40-car-per-day program, which is the present rate of production, it found itself unable to keep up with orders. During February the total number of orders received aggregated 1107, and even the 952-car output fell short of filling orders for February shipment by 155 cars. The manufacturing schedule for March calls for the production of 1031 cars.

COULD NOT KEEP HOUSE

Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Says Mrs. Pitts of Newburgh

Newburgh, N. Y.—"My trouble was a weak back and I could not walk two blocks without being tired out. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in a newspaper and decided to give it a trial. Now I can do my own work and walk with ease. I always keep the Vegetable Compound in the house. It certainly is my best friend and I could not keep house without it. I have recommended it to many and always shall. You may use this letter if you wish."—Mrs. EDWARD PITTS, 2 High St., Newburgh, N. Y.

It has been said that "backache is an invention of the Evil One to try women's souls." But even so, it is more often a symptom of a female trouble which sooner or later declares itself. Day after day it drags a woman down and night after night prevents restful sleep. Such woman should follow Mrs. Pitt's advice and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and regain health. Letters about your health will be given careful attention and held in strict confidence if you write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Their experience of over 40 years is at your service.

WHEN RHEUMATISM HITS YOU HARD!

Sloan's Liniment should be kept handy for aches and pains

WHY wait for a severe pain, an ache, a rheumatic twinge following exposure, a sore muscle, sciatica, or lumbago to make you quit work when you should have Sloan's Liniment handy to help curb it and keep you active, and fit, and on the job?

Without rubbing, for it penetrates, apply a bit today to the afflicted part. Note the gratifying, clean, prompt relief that follows. Sloan's Liniment couldn't keep its many thousands of friends the world over if it didn't make good. This is worth remembering. All druggists—three sizes—the largest is the most economical. 35c, 70c, $1.40.

SURVEY OF AVAILABLE COAL SUPPLY PLANNED

In order to determine whether coal consumers are unwisely burning up their reserve supplies the geological survey at Washington, on Wednesday, sent out a questionaire inquiring about the stocks of coal on hand April 1. The purpose of the survey is to find out how much coal is being carried over from the past coal year in order that consumers and producers may make intelligent plans for the next year.

Bituminous production during the third week of March was 6,468,000 tons, the lowest point except the 1919 coal strike, since the business depression of 1914. The weekly average for 1920 was 10,700,000 tons.

The decrease was to be expected in part, department officials said, because of decline in consumption in exports. The geological survey hopes to complete the survey within 30 days and lay before the public specific information as to whether the present above ground reserves are below or above the safety line.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S NEW PLAY AT COYLE THEATRE

"The Kid," which will be the attraction at the Coyle theatre next week, is the most striking venture of Charlie Chaplin into the field of six-reel attractions. The production is about three times the length of the comedian's previous pictures and is considerably more than three times funnier than anything he has done. The story has a real plot, and the humor is caused by situations in a real story and is doubly laughable because of the comical antics of Chaplin can always be counted upon in any situation Do not depend on anyone else to tell you about it. You won't be able to understand them because of the laughing memories it will cause. See it at the Coyle.

Notice.

I wish to notify the public that I have not left the home of my husband, E. Billion, but was away a short time on a visit to my parents. When leaving Charleroi I was accompanied to the train by my husband. Upon my return I found a note stating he had left Charleroi not to return Mrs. E. Billion. 252t1p

SPRING IS COMING; TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN

Thousands of People Take it Every Spring to Regain Health and Fight Illness

MAKES BLOOD RICH AND RED

Helps to Build Up the Entire Human System with Life-Giving Oxygen

In the Springtime, after a winter sickness or long days pent up indoors, the blood becomes clogged with waste matter. The little red corpuscles in your blood became inferior. They do not absorb enough oxygen when they pass through the lungs. The tiny cells, billions of them, miss the nourishing effect of the oxygen, and faces become pale, bodies weak.

If you feel out of sorts, cranky, tired out most of the time, it is probably because your blood is weak. If you have no other disease pulling you down, you can be pretty sure your blood is weak and you need the help that Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the well known Spring blood tonic, gives.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan makes rich red blood and puts new life into the red corpuscles. If you are anemic (a thin-blooded condition) Gude's Pepto-Mangan will restore the right number of red corpuscles. You will notice a general improvement, better appetite, more restful sleep, better complexion, wide open clear eyes.

Get Gude's Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's. He has it in liquid and tablet form. It makes no difference which you take, because the tablets and the liquid form both have the same medicinal value Get the genuine Gude's Pepto-Mangan with the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" printed on the package. CRUDOLEUM

THE GUARANTEED REMEDY FOR HAIR AND SCALP TROUBLES

Stubborn cases of itching, irritated scalp are easily overcome by Crudoleum. It is a harmless, high grade light amber petroleum, which has been tried and proven to be especially adapted for removing dandruff and other causes of falling, fading hair Able authorities have proved this fact by many convincing trials As time rolls on, the public, after using many different remedies for hair care and ridding the scalp of disease and dandruff, are returning to petroleum, but to the higher, cleaner grade, and not to the thick dark, muddy looking petroleums which are apt to contain suspended particles of unsanitary substances, lime, free carbon or free sulphur. This accounts for the possibility that a few who have used a common grade it are telling their friends about it. If you are unable to get it from your of petroleum on the scalp may have done so without much success.

We offer you Crudoleum, believing it is the best grade obtainable for the purposes for which we recommend it and you get to appreciate it as soon as you use it. It is a harmless application that is rapidly finding its way into the homes of the people. The price is only 35c for a half pint bottle. Get a bottle today at F. J. John; he is authorized to return the purchase price if you are not satisfied after giving Crudoleum a fair trial. The antiseptic, healing powers of Crudoleum and its clean, sparkling appearance and light color is what is making it so popular. Those who have tried druggist, send 40c to Wm. M. Simpson Drug Co., Wholesale Druggists, Wilkinsburg Station, Pittsburg, Pa.

A. L. DUBINSKY,

OLD TANNERS DID GOOD WORK

Leather Made in China 3,000 Years Ago Has Been Found in Comparatively Good Condition.

Originally skins were cured by simply cleaning and drying. Then it was found the texture of the leather was improved by the use of smoke, sour milk, various oils and the brains of animals themselves. Later it was discovered that certain astringent barks and vegetables effected permanent changes in the texture of skins and stopped decay. The ancient Egyptians possessed this knowledge, for engravings on their tombs depict the process of tanning. In China specimens of leather have been discovered in company with other relics that prove them to be more than 3,000 years old. The Romans used leather which they tanned with oil, alum and bark. Early explorers in America found the Indians wearing skins prepared with buffalo dung, oil and clay.

No improvement in the general methods of preparing leather took place from the most primitive times until about 1790, when the use of lime to loosen the hair was introduced. By 1825 English tanners were attempting to introduce new methods by which the tanning process could be shortened. One of the pioneers in these experiments was John Burridge, the inventor of the barkometer, an instrument for determining the strength of tanning liquors.

In 1620 the first tannery in America was built in Virginia. A second one was established a few years later at Lynn, Mass.

FIRST "BLUE LAW" EXPONENT

Emperor Constantine Laid Down Strict Rules for the Guidance of His Subject Peoples.

Constantine, the great Roman emperor, who ruled in 321 A. D., was the first ruler in Europe to impose blue laws upon the people. Constantine was highly religious, and he demanded strict observance of the Sabbath throughout his vast empire.

He decreed that "judges, inhabitants and artificers" must rest on the Sabbath. He excepted husbandmen from this order, however, since "sowing was a necessity and could not be done on any other day." Slaves could not be compelled work on this day, by the emperor's decree. Should masters be caught in the act of forcing their slaves to labor, a heavy fine and perhaps a jail sentence would be imposed. Children were emancipated from labor on the Sabbath. Constantine also ordered his vast armies wherever they might be to devote this day to prayer. At the same time he set aside Friday as a day in which prayer was required of all the people. Later he extended his order to include Saturday as a day when the wheels of Roman industry should remain still.

The Price That Is Set.

The gods have set a price upon every real and noble pleasure. If you would gain the favor of the Deity you must be at the pains of worshiping Him; if you would be beloved by your friends you must study to oblige them; if you would be honored by any city you must be of service to it; and if you would be admired by all Greece, on account of your probity and valor, you must exert yourself to do her some eminent service. If you would render your fields fruitful and fill your arms with grain, you must labor to cultivate the soil accordingly. Would you grow rich by your herds, a proper care must be taken of them; would you extend your dominions by arms and be rendered capable of setting at liberty your captive friends and bringing your enemies to subjection, you must not only learn of those that are experienced in the art of war, but exercise yourself also in the practice of military affairs; and if you would excel in the strength of your body you must keep your body in due subjection to your mind and exercise it with labor and pains.—From the "Memorabilia of Socrates."

American parents often deplore the abruptness of their children's speech, but few American children would venture to address their parents in the incisive language sometimes used in the Gladstone family, as indicated in a recent book by Mary Drew, Mr. Gladstone's daughter. It bored Mr. Gladstone, she says, to hear people apologetically differ—"My dearest love, I really think you are wrong," etc. "He thought it more to the point to be short and sharp—'A lie!' It is impossible to forget Lord Morley's face," adds Mrs. Drew, "when he first heard one of us say to Mr. Gladstone, 'A lie!'" This freedom of expression half startled and shocked guests at Hawarden, Mr. Gladstone's daughter observes, but it broke the seriousness of discussion and "put everyone in good humor."—From the Outlook.

Straightening Wire.

Stray pieces of copper wire have many uses, but it is often necessary to straighten out wire that has already been used before it can be employed again. See that there are no sharp bends or kinks in the wire and straighten out by hand any of these which are found. Fasten one end of the wire to some firm anchorage, grip it in the vise if necessary. Loop the other end of the wire around a hammer handle or similar instrument and then pull out the length of wire. Repeat this operation as often as necessary. If the wire is of soft copper it will stretch a little, which improves it

CAN LIVE CHEAPLY IN HAITI

Food Costs Little, and Tips for Services Rendered Are Hardly Worth While Considering.

Labor and living are cheap in Haiti. There is a hotel in Port au Prince, rated as the best, that charges only $4 a day for a room and three square meals.

True, the rooms are small, with the ancient washbowl, and unlockable, with concrete floors and rugless, but they are clean and comfortable.

The same meals could not be obtained anywhere in the United States at double the price. Luncheon is a regular dinner and dinner is much like an eight-course feast.

They never serve less than two or three meats, when one, according to the American habit, would be enough. There is fruit in abundance in Haiti, and a boy standing on the front porch, overlooking the sea, often picks the breakfast oranges.

The favorite dish is the chicken, served 365 days in the year without the least variation. Nobody ever wants to see a chicken after staying three weeks in Haiti.

A Haitian boy, waiting faithfully on a guest for 21 meals, beams his delight when tipped 3 gourdes, which is 60 cents. The maid, whose chief duty is to spread the mosquito net, almost drops to her knees for the same fee weekly. The boy who fetches the water and fixes the shoes gladly slips a man extra towels for 3 gourdes a week.

Laundry at American rates would cost more than room and board in Haiti, if there were laundries. There is much to go out from each room daily to washerwomen, and it comes back spick and span at nominal cost.

But Haiti has not reached the point where it may bid for tourist travel. A man, stopping at the best hotel here for the first time feels rather foolish when he asks for room and bath and is conducted to a little house 50 feet away, where he may get a shower. It's a hard life for women.

The best, however, is in sharp contrast with the worst, for the laborer gets 20 cents a day, and thousands of natives live only on fruit that grows wild everywhere, the year round, like the roses.

Forests in Bohemia.

In the Bohemia lands (Bohemia, Moravia and Silesia) the needle forests predominate. The pines and firs cover 78 per cent of the forest area, the leaf timber 9.1 per cent, and the mixed about 12.9 per cent. In Slovakia and Carpathian Russia, the new territories, it is noteworthy that the leaf forests prevail, forming about 67 per cent of the whole, and the needle forests make up the balance, or 33 per cent. Ownership of these forests is singular. The state owns about 1,400,000 acres, charitable institutions own 600,000 acres, municipalities hold 2,500,000 acres and the large estates, held by private owners, cover 8,000,000 acres. It must not be taken for granted that the extensive Czechoslovak forests were given over to the use of the whole people. On the contrary, all the benefits to be derived enured to the foreign nobility and the wealthy owners, when the mere walking through one of these private forests was presumptive evidence of a wrongful intent. Of the vast estates held by individuals about 64.35 per cent of the whole in Bohemia were owned in parcels larger than 1,250 acres in extent, while minor holdings, those less than 1,250 acres in area, were held by the poorer classes.

Beware.

Green, Brown and Johnson were invited to Robinson's Christmas dinner.

On the way there Brown remarked to Johnson and Green:

"By the way, you fellows, I just want to give you a friendly warning. Beware of Robinson's champagne!"

So when the drinks were produced, Johnson and Green said they would drink nothing stronger than lemonade.

Much to their surprise, however, Brown did not follow their example, but drank the champagne. So on the way home they asked him:

"What really was the matter with Robinson's champagne?"

"Oh, the quality was all right," replied Brown quietly. "It was the quantity I thought would be deficient—not enough for everybody."—London Ideas.

A paint dealer has in his office a little house which is made of interchangeable parts. The roof, for instance, is black and the side walls and porches are of some contrasting color. If he wishes to show the customer the effect of different color combinations he simply exchanges some of the parts of the house for other parts of different shades.

He says it has helped him in many cases to secure contracts which otherwise he could not have closed so easily. The expense of the contrivance is not great and it paid for itself in a short time.

New Study of Child.

Child study from the standpoint of the mother is the subject of a course offered by the College of Industrial Arts at Denton, Texas, which is the state college for women, according to a recent issue of School Life. The course consists of lectures, library readings and psychological laboratory work, and is intended to fit the young woman to be mistress of a home and the mother of a family. Child instincts and interests, heredity and environment, subnormal and defective children, diseases of children, and the moral and religious nature of children are
